

Enrolling with ET Australia

ET Australia ensures that individuals enrolling in a Training Program have all the information required to make an informed choice to undertake their training with ET Australia and feel assured that the Training College is going to meet their training needs.

The pre-enrolment information provided in this document is specific to students enrolling in a Smart and Skilled approved training program.

It is important that you take the time to read through the pre-information provided and if at any stage you require further information or assistance, please don't hesitate to contact an ET Australia Representative on 4323 1233.

Along with other important information, this document contains ET Australia's Consumer Protection policies which includes:

- Australian Privacy Principles
- Complaints Management
- Appeals
- Fees and Refunds
- Deferring or Discontinuation of Training

1. Declarations and Consent

To make sure that we are meeting our above objective of ensuring you are a well-informed consumer we will ask for you to sign some declarations on your understanding of the information provided to you within this pre-enrolment pack, and also, your consent for ET Australia to record and report your personal information where required. Please read through all of the information provided prior to signing off on the declarations provided.

- Consent for use and disclosure of personal information to the Department of Industry, Skills and Regional Development and other Government Agencies
- Declaration that you have/will provide true, accurate, complete and not misleading information when accessing Government funded training opportunities

2. Eligibility for a Smart & Skilled Funded Program

When enrolling in a Smart & Skilled Government subsidised training program with ET Australia you will need to be determined as meeting the eligibility requirements. Your ET Australia Representative will work through the eligibility process with you. Please see below an overview of the criteria that must be met to be an eligible recipient of a subsidised training place. Evidence of your eligibility will be required – this is detailed in Section 7 of this document.

Smart & Skilled	Eligibility Criteria

Fee Eligibility	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Evidence required to determine concession / exemption or fee-free scholarship eligibility (pg. 10 outlines requirements for fee-free scholarship eligibility).

3. The Enrolment Process

For all eligible prospective students, ET Australia must follow a process to notify the Department of the enrolment in a Smart and Skilled subsidised training program. This process is known as 'Notification of Enrolment'.

ET Australia will carry out the Notification of Enrolment process as follows:-

1. ET Australia will obtain the consent of the prospective student to the Department's use of the prospective student's information (Refer to section 9 'Consent Declaration').

Once the prospective student has given their consent, ET Australia will continue with the Notification of Enrolment process.

2. ET Australia will use an online tool to validate the prospective student's eligibility and input any details of Credit Transfers and Recognition of Prior learning *. The online tool will generate details of the student fees chargeable. ET Australia will provide the prospective student with details of the fees chargeable.
3. The prospective student will then be asked to sign or electronically accept a declaration (refer Section 10 'Prospective Student Declaration') confirming that: -
 - All information provided by the prospective student to ET Australia in connection with the Notification of Enrolment Process is true, accurate, complete and not misleading in any way
 - The prospective student is aware of any subcontracting arrangements (if applicable); and
 - The prospective student has been provided with the details of the fees chargeable and the student information
4. Successful completion of the Notification of Enrolment Process will result in the issue of a Commitment ID and then training can commence.

 Credit Transfer and Recognition of Prior Learning

When any individual applies or enrolls in a training program with ET Australia, they have the right to have all their relevant skills and knowledge, attained through formal and informal training or life experiences, considered for the granting of recognition in a qualification, statement of attainment or unit of competency. Recognition is an integral component of the vocational education and training (VET) industry.

Students are required to discuss any prior learning or qualifications that may provide them with a credit or recognition of prior learning upon enrolment so this can be evaluated prior to the commencement of the training program.

4. ET Australia's Policies to Support Consumer Protection

Australian Privacy Principles

ET Australia has procedures, business practices and systems in place that are aligned to the Australian Privacy Principles from Schedule 1 of the Privacy Amendment (Enhancing Privacy Protection) Act 2012, which amends the Privacy Act 1988.

ET Australia ensures that the collection, use and disclosure of personal information relating to individuals who have contact with the RTO in relation to the RTO's business activities and services are carried out by lawful and fair means.

ET Australia complies with Australian Privacy Principle 1, (APP 1), by having documented procedures in place to manage the personal information it collects and the information flows associated with that information in an open and transparent manner.

Complaints Management

ET Australia has a complaints management framework in place to ensure students and clients understand their rights and ET Australia's responsibilities under the Standards for Registered Training Organisation (RTO's) 2025.

ET Australia has processes in place that promotes the timely and fair resolution of concerns, complaints (including grievances) and appeals.

Complaint management processes are in place and easily accessible through the ET Australia Student Handbook. These processes are in place to manage and respond to any issues that an individual, (including all staff, students, clients and members of the public), may have when dealing with ET Australia with regards to conduct issues of any staff member of ET Australia, including Trainers and Assessors, students of the Training College, or a Third Party providing services on behalf of ET Australia.

The complaints and appeals procedures are intended as a constructive exercise which, through the processes of conciliation and mediation, invites professional compatibility.

Any ET Australia employee can receive a complaint. The employee who receives the complaint will need to determine whether it is a matter that can be resolved informally or whether it should be referred to ET Australia's Consumer Protection Officer and resolved through a more formal process.

ET Australia's Consumer Protection Officer

ET Australia has a dedicated Consumer Protection Officer to ensure that throughout your training any issues that may arise will be dealt with efficiently and fairly.

Appeals

ET Australia has processes in place that provide an avenue for review of decisions made, including assessment decisions, by ET Australia or any Third Party that may be delivering services on behalf of ET Australia. All students have the opportunity to challenge the assessment decision made by an Assessor on a unit of competence or an assessment process. An appeal can be lodged for a period of up to 4 weeks post the assessment outcome. ET Australia ensures that all assessment appeals are addressed efficiently and effectively.

Deferring or Discontinuation of Training

ET Australia has a policy in place to ensure that Students who are enrolled with ET Australia in a Smart and Skilled subsidised training program understand the procedures in place in the event that they need to defer or discontinue their training after having enrolled and commenced training.

Fees and Refunds

ET Australia has a Fees and Refunds policy in place to outline the terms and conditions for the payment and administration of student fees incurred for the provision of training and assessment services by ET Australia to ensure consumer protection.

ET Australia safeguards all student fees in a fair and equitable manner.

This policy is applicable for students undertaking training under government funded contractual arrangements and for students paying commercial fees. This includes employers or employment service providers who may pay on behalf of students and includes students undertaking both classroom based training programs and workplace or self-paced based training programs.

ET Australia ensures that all fees, payment arrangements and refund information is provided to potential clients prior to enrolment. Students are required to accept the terms and conditions set out in the Enrolment form and supporting information prior to or concurrently with payment of their fee.

Undertaking funded training under a Smart & Skilled subsidy means that the Government have policies in place as well to ensure you are an informed and protected consumer. For additional information of Fees under the Smart & Skilled training please access link below:

Smart and Skilled Fee Administration Policy

https://www.training.nsw.gov.au/forms_documents/smartandskilled/contract/fee_administration_policy_2017.pdf

ET Australia will generate a Notification of Enrolment report which will detail the applicable fees chargeable for your specific training program in line with your personal circumstances, and provide these details to you prior to you enrolling.

5. Student Handbook

ET Australia's Student Handbook will provide you with more detailed information on the procedures that are in place to support these consumer protection policies. A link has been provided below for you to access further information about these procedures, and additional pre-enrolment information; including:

- Credit Transfer and Recognition of Prior Learning
- What a student should do if they decide to defer or discontinue training they have enrolled in
- Support services that are available to ET Australia's students during their training
- Assessment processes and policies, what will be expected of you

6. Unique Student Identifier (USI)

From January 2015, every student who undertakes nationally recognised vocational education and training (VET) in Australia will have the ability to access their enrolment and training record from a single authoritative source.

A USI gives you access to your online USI account. This is made up of ten numbers and letters and will look something like this: 3AB88CD9U7.

As a student this means you will be able to obtain a full transcript of all accredited VET training that you have undertaken since 1 January 2015 onwards. The USI will mean that applying for jobs or enrolling in future study will ensure your records can easily be accessed by yourself at any given time. You can access your account online at any time from a computer, tablet or smart phone.

Any student that is undertaking nationally recognised training from 1 January 2015 will need a USI.

Providing / Applying for a USI

When you commence training with ET Australia you may already have a USI. If you do, it will be important that you provide this information on the Enrolment form provided to you. As part of the enrolment process this will be verified through an online process by an ET Australia representative to ensure validity.

In the event that you do not already have a USI, please find following a link on how you can apply for a USI. This is a free simple process that can be done online. This needs to be done prior to completing your enrolment form as the USI is required to be included.

Applying for a Unique Student Identifier

<https://www.usi.gov.au/students/create-your-usi>

If you have any problem applying for a USI ET Australia will be very happy to do this on your behalf. You can indicate this in the space provided on the Enrolment form. For ET Australia to do this on your behalf it is important to note that:

- ET Australia will need to collect personal information and provide it to the Student Identifiers Registrar
- ET Australia will need to verify your identification via the provision of specified documents
- You will be required to read and sign a Privacy Notice

If you already have a USI but are unsure of what it is or how to locate it, ET Australia can also assist with this process.

Important: A valid USI will need to be provided to ET Australia before you can receive a statement of attainment or qualification.

Protection of Students' Privacy

The USI system has a number of features built into the design to ensure both privacy protection and that students have control over their USI, for example:

- Personal information (such as name, date of birth etc.) will be stored separately from education and training records
- The USI will be stored with a student's personal information and be held by the Student Identifiers Agency
- The USI will also be attached to a student's training records which will be held by the National Centre for Vocational Education and Research (NCVER).

Your personal information would only be linked to the education information when you ask to see your own records or when you provide authorisation for someone else to do so (such as a training organisation) or as otherwise authorised by Commonwealth legislation.

ET Australia will be able to access your electronic VET record to assist in assessing pre-requisites and credit transfers; however will ensure that your permission is given to be able to do this. ET Australia will provide guidance on how this can be managed online.

ET Australia has policies in place to ensure that student USI's are not collected, used or disclosed by anyone other than the student or for the purpose other than those set out in legislative guidelines.

❗ More detailed information on the USI can be found through one of the following:

Website: usi.gov.au
